

Hey LetsPlay3 owners,

Week 20 aux stats are up, up, and away.

Note: Here in Week 21, LP3+ premium content is available to all LetsPlay3 owners at no extra charge (a selfie).

Week 21 - Last week of the regular season

Congrats to our asterisk teams...guys who have clinched a playoff spot: #1 Ronsby, #2 CRYO TED, #3 Breaking Beard

That leaves three remaining playoff spots.

We have six teams over .500 battling for those...from #4 DG to #9 Philly. YOW!

Important: Everyone, please...check your roster/lineup today and during the week to be as competitive in Week 21 as possible.

Even if you're not in the playoff hunt, it's like my Gram Krieger would say: The only thing better than winning is watching the other guy lose. (smirk)

The regular season tiebreaker to get into the playoffs:

Highest winning percentage from the last game week.

If there's still a tie, the process continues for each previous week until the tie is broken.

Turn your love around
Don't you turn me down
I can show you how
Turn your love around

George Benson, www.youtube.com/watch?v=9tZWLRh3xmU

The song was written by a guy named Jay Graydon...love his "inspiration". (ha)

The inspiration for the song came to Graydon in the bathroom. He explained to Songfacts, "'Turn Your Love Around' was a gift, and it's the gift that keeps giving. I was in the bathroom when I came up with the melody, and I was sitting down, if you get my drift. Well, I got off the can as fast as I could and got to a cassette machine so I wouldn't forget it. George Benson was coming in town Tuesday, so I had four days to come up with a song for The George Benson Collection. And I was gettin' nothing. And then bang! I just came up with this melody for the chorus when I was in the bathroom."

Finally, in this intense final week of the regular season, here's a must watch 90 second video (he he)

Mr Ed hitting a home run off Sandy Koufax, from the Mr Ed Show in the early 60's. (snort)
